

Imani Davies an open race female is sitting on the chair with holding a drink.

LISA
Mayor Davies, Mia Collins is here.

IMANI
Aw, Ms. Collins, come have a seat.

Mia does as instructed.

MIA
It's real nice to meet you.

IMANI
I'm delighted to meet with you.
(to Lisa)
Give us a moment.

Lisa leaves the room.

The Peoples Network
IMANI
(to Mia)
Can I offer you something to drink?

MIA
No thank you.

IMANI
I guess you're wondering why I wanted to meet with you.

MIA
Yes, I figured if had something to do with what happened at the warehouse.

IMANI
Yes, you showed such bravery.

MIA
It was nothing.

IMANI
Nonsense. It was amazing. You helped them girls get away.

CONTINUED:

MIA

Well when you're forced to survive I guess my fight or flight instinct kicked in and I started fighting.

IMANI

Amazing.

Imani goes to sit next to her. Mia gets a bit uncomfortable, but thinks nothing of it due to her excitement.

MIA

I think it's wonderful how you help girls like me get off the street with your mentoring programs.

IMANI

It's what someone like me has to do for the public.

MIA

It's indeed inspiring.

Imani takes a big sip of her drink and her demeanor turns from nice to mean.

IMANI

You know what you did fucked up alot of money for me the other night.

MIA

I'm sorry what?

IMANI

You heard me you little bitch. That little stunt cost me alot.

Mia stands up.

MIA

Mayor Davies.

IMANI

Don't mayor Davies me you little shit.

Mia backs away.
