Sophia is in the office waiting for Capt. Stone to enter.

She see's a file on his desk that doesn't have a name on it.
right when she reaches for it the Capt. walks in.

                    CAPT. STONE
          How can I help you?

This startles Sophia.

The captain walks around to the front of his desk.

Sophia extends her hand to shake his.

                    SOPHIA
          You must be Captain Stone?

They shake hands.

                    CAPT. STONE
          Depends on who's asking.

They share an uncomfortable laugh.

                    SOPHIA
          I'm here to talk about the Olivia
          Brown case.

                    CAPT. STONE
               (Thinking)
          Olivia Brown?

                    SOPHIA
          Yes, Also known as Star.

                    CAPT. STONE
          Oh, yes. The young prostitute.

                    SOPHIA
          Excuse me?

                    CAPT. STONE
          That case is close to being closed.
          It's been ruled a suicide.

                    SOPHIA
          I don't think so. She would never do something like that.

                    CAPT. STONE
          How do you know Ms...??

                    SOPHIA
          Ms. Stinson... I'm with the bureau for investigations.

                    CAPT. STONE
          Hmmm... That's strange. I wasn't aware the feds had an interest in this case..

                    SOPHIA
          Well the case just fell into my lap.

                    CAPT. STONE
          Well, how do you know that this young lady wouldn't off herself?

                    SOPHIA
          Well for one, the lack of investigation that was done and the circumstances surrounding it.

                    CAPT. STONE
          You sure do know a lot considering this case just "fell into your lap".

                    SOPHIA
          The men that she was with are alleged crooks and this need to be looked into further. Just because this young lady led an alternative lifestyle does not mean her life is any less important.

                    CAPT. STONE
          Listen.... You are wasting your time.
          Go back to wherever you came from. We got it handled.

                    SOPHIA
          No disrespect captain, but apparently you don't.

                    CAPT. STONE
               (Pause for a second)

CONTINUED:

                Are we finished here?

                        SOPHIA
                    (Frustrated)
                I guess we are.... For now. I'll be seeing you again captain.

                        CAPT. STONE
                I hope not under these circumstances.

Sophia gives a half smile and walks out.

Captain picks up the phone and dials a number.

                        CAPT. STONE
                    (On the phone)
                We may have a problem.
